

SLUSH.

If anybody has a desire to read a whole page of the most insufferable slush, let him tackle the fourth page of Monday's San Francisco Chronicle. There was a "jam" given on Nob Hill, and of course it is of the utmost importance that the world should know who was there, how they were dressed and what they ate and drank. Honest, square told English was at a discount, so the bill of fare was made out in barbarous French, but the reporter forgot to say that probably not one person in ten of all that crowd could say "Hors d'oeuvres" so that a Frenchman would know what they were talking about. No doubt the "Me Lud" for whose special benefit this gigantic feed was given, laid up fun enough out of the blunders of this awkward squad to keep his London Club laughing for six months. Fough!

Paying Robbery.

The custom of compromising with thieves to secure the return of valuables stolen by them, and letting them go scot free, ought to be put an end too. It is nothing more or less than paying a premium for rascality. A few years ago there was a regular "brass wire" discovered running through the Southern and Middle States, by which bank crackers, bond thieves, and such heavy "lifters" could escape the operations of law and at the same time secure a large plunder. It was found that this "wire" had a number of quite prominent and wealthy men, stung on it and they had made the business pay. That gang was broken and the new one that has its place should be. Here is a recent example of the way this nefarious business is carried on. The robbery of $112,000 bonds in a Cleveland bank several weeks ago will be remembered. The President of the bank, Mr. Ellis, was sitting at his desk cutting off the interest coupons, and having occasion to speak to some business friends who came in, turned his back on the bonds for a few minutes. When he looked for them again they were gone, and the most careful search failed to show how or whether they went. A few days ago New York detectives and lawyers opened negotiations with him, in the course of which he was given to understand that he would get his bonds back if he was willing to pay $27,500 for them. He assented to the proposition and paid the money, and now the bonds in his possession. It is not known who the thief or thieves were, but it is stated that they belonged to a band whose operations extend over a wide stretch of country, and that when any member of it gets into trouble his friends easily manage to secure bail for him.

There was a disgraceful scene in the court room here day before yesterday at Mount Vernon Ky., during a trial by Judge Bradley of a murder case. John Milless, a drunken and insolent witness, was first fined and then ordered under arrest by the court. He and his father resisted, and both being powerful men, made a wild scene of disorder, during which the audience and jury fled in a panic. Several shots were fired and many persons knocked down, but no corpses were discovered. Both men were finally jailed and the trial by mutual consent was put over to the next term, the jury having disappeared.

A Washington correspondent of the Express says: General Barbridge proposes to crowd Blackburn into an uncomfortable corner, and will not permit the matter to rest as it is. In the controversy, when Blackburn attempts to ignore him, it is evidently his intention to force Blackburn to a square backdown or a fight. That he means business is evidenced by the fact that he has summoned here an old friend and fighting man, who has had large experience in such matters, Colonel Parker, late of the United States army, but now of Deadwood.

The leaders of the mob which took possession of Danford, the Kansas banker, and threatened to hang him may have to pay for their fun. He has brought suit against one of them for $100,000 damages. It is not likely, however, that a Kansas jury would award him a cent. He was lucky to get off with his life and thought so at the time, and he is a hog to sue for damages.

If the Customs officials do their duty and probe to the bottom the opium smuggling case, it is likely that wealthy and influential citizens will be shown up as engaged in opium smuggling. —Daily Report.

Well they must do something, stocks in such a sickly condition that the outside won't purchase so that some of the revenue is cut off, and most of them would die if they couldn't steal something.

SPLINTERS.

Telephonic conversation, easily and distinctly understood, was held the other day between San Diego and Los Angeles, a distance of 145 miles of wire.

An Omaha railroad man got for a Christmas present a silver locomotive thirteen inches long, made at a cost of $500, and a perfect miniature in every detail.

General W. G. Fitzgerald of Vicksburg has been declared the choice of the Republicans and Independents in the Mississippi Legislature for United States Senator.

A Springfield dairyman furnished butter to a circus company recently, and wanted to get in on the strength of it. The ticket agent examined the butter and granted the request.

Considerable surprise and excitement was created in Wall street the other day by a prominent operator appearing on the steps of the Treasury building with his hand in his own pockets.—The Judge.

The New York saloons keepers have formed an organization called the Union for Rights. The object is to secure protection against what they term the unjustifiable attacks of the Temperance Brotherhood.

The citizens of Lodi, Lockeford, Woodbridge and Comanche have organized to construct a narrow-gauge railroad from tidewater to the foothills, from Brock's Landing, via Woodbridge and Lockeford to Comanche.

Twenty-five buildings in various parts of Philadelphia were set on fire the other day by means of the electric wires from a store near Thirteenth and Chestnut streets, and several persons were slightly injured by shocks received.

The Arizona Sentinel says that when the connection is made at Puerto Ysabel by the Southern Pacific Railroad, it is probable that the Pacific Mail steamships will stop at that port and forward passengers and freight to San Francisco by rail.

It is said that while two sportsmen from Visalia were fishing recently in Tulare Lake, they caught a venerable turtle, upon the weather worn shell of which could be faintly traced the Spanish inscription, "Padre Vincentre, 1797."

Jose J. Vallejo, died at Salinas, aged 84 years. He had been a resident of Mission San Jose since 1838, and a few weeks ago went to Salinas to visit a daughter. The disease which carried him off was pneumonia. He was a brother of General M. G. Vallejo, of Sonoma, and his father was one of the nine founders of San Jose.

The Graphic truly says that there is perhaps no man except Senator Miller who stands higher with his party than Aaron A. Sargent. His appointment to the Cabinet would not only please those Republicans who respect him but drew to the support of the Administration a large number of men who have refused to train with the Stalwarts.

The Bourbons from all over the South are reviling Mahone, and display extreme trepidation at the constant outcropping of an inclination to follow his footsteps on the part of prominent men in other Southern States. It is believed among Republicans generally that a break in the Solid South will extend all along the line, and there are strong indications of a split on the tariff issue between the Democratic party and Louisiana Democracy.

We have been strongly inclined to favor Mr. Sargent's aspirations for Secretary of the Interior, but a recent announcement that he is being urged by Huntington, Jay Gould and the entire railroad ring, makes us a little doubtful. Good may come out of such men, but the chances are largely against it. They believe in the greatest good of the greatest number, and that's No. 1. One thing at least is still in Sargent's favor, that double-breasted sausage covering Geo. C. Gorham is against him.

A New Fiber.

In some Southern exchanges mention is made of a new material suited to the manufacture of bagging and rope. The plant is known pretty generally in the central Southern States as bear grass, and further south as the Spanish dagger. It belongs to the yucca family, which contains about a dozen varieties, all stout and tough in leaf and fiber, and is known as a beautiful and abundant bloomer. In Kentucky and Tennessee bear grass has been used for hanging up meat in smokehouses ever since those States began to become settled. According to one journal, the yucca plant, or this variety of it, is omnipresent in the South below forty degrees north latitude, and if what is claimed for it is true, it furnishes another important item in the great resources of that section of the Union. The fiber is represented as being as strong as hemp, and almost as indestructible as iron, except by fire. Its advantages are briefly summed up as follows: The plant grows more than one 100 years. Losses less than one-tenth in cleaning, gives the strongest coarse fiber in the world, will not shrink when it gets wet in rope, yields largely, requires no cultivation after the third year, is worth 10 to 15 cents per pound when cleaned, and grows spontaneously everywhere south of thirty-one degrees.

TROUBLESOME TYPES.

Some Curious Blunders Made by the "Intelligent" Composer.

The newspaper reader who thoroughly peruses his daily sheet frequently finds a ludicrous blunder of the types perhaps in an editorial on "The Utterly Unknownable of the Hereafter," or in an obituary notice, which convulses him with laughter and entirely destroys the intended effect of the one and the sober seriousness of the other. In most newspaper offices, whenever the paper itself is referred to, it is the custom to underscore the name and set it in "small caps." A Herald reporter, in his report of a prayer meeting, quoted the word "herald" in a well-known hymn. The proof-reader underscored the word, and the quotation appeared as follows: "Hark! the Herald angels sing." The New York World's printing of the word "shouts" in the report of a political meeting was so ludicrously funny as to make the blunder famous. "The shouts of 10,000 Democrats rent the air," read the report. An advertisement, inquiring for a "two-story house." The unfortunate "typo" got a large-sized flea in his ear for the mistake. Curiosity exhibitors have searched in vain for the man whom the compositor stated had "appealed to the postmaster-general with tears in his ears." Not long ago a western paper printed, in a high-down report of the dedication of a monument, "As he uttered these noble sentiments, the toying winds that kissed his brow, gently curled the flag around him like a winding sheet." "Sheet" was the right word, but the "i. c." set it up "shirt" to the disgust of the reporter and the speaker. An editor wrote of Conkling, "The jove-like grandeur of his brow," etc., but the type sticking stand made him say, "The Joy street grandeur of his brow." One of the city papers not long ago stated "The President was greeted with tremendous tears when he took his seat." Did it mean crocodile tears, or "cheers"? In the report of a Sunday school anniversary a southern "typo" unfortunately read "order" on the following as "odor," and set it up so that it read: "Perfect odor and decorum was maintained." A worthy prelate was called by the Winnipeg Times, in an obituary, "a worthy pirate." A reverend gentleman who had lectured the night before upon "The Influence of Rome on the Formation of Christianity" wanted to commit suicide or murder the next morning, when he read in the paper that he had lectured upon "The Influence of Ram on the Formation of Christianity."

The Lime Kiln Club on Cranks.

Colonel Ebenezer Canister offered the following single-barreled resolution: Resolved, That dis Club has no sympathy with cranks, and dat it am de sense of dis Club dat more hangium would result in less crankism.

The resolution was passed by an unanimous vote, and Brother Gardner added:

"I feel dat way myself. Doman who can pay out an' receive money, trabbie around de country, do bizness and keep out of de way ob de butcher caris musn't shoot my ole woman an' den plead hereditary, heretofore, hereafter, or any odder sort of insanity. A Prime White Out Wanted.

A correspondent of the Prairie Farmer writes from Shabbona Grove, Illinois: Wanted by the farmers of the West, a white-out that will weigh at least thirty-five pounds per measured bushel; that has a stiff straw; that will stand up well on lands that will produce from fifty to seventy-five bushels of corn per acre; not liable to rust or smut; and yield like the Norway. Such an oat is greatly wanted for our rich prairie soils since the advent of oat mills, and the large amount of oats ground up and exported and used at home, and as a substitute for wheat in many places. The demand is increasing every year in magnitude, and is now urgent for a good heavy Winter-oat for milling; so much so that oats of all kinds are at least five cents per bushel higher than they would have been had there been none ground up into oat meal. Now, the great trouble with our present white oats is, they all fall down on good lands, and, of course, do not fill as they would if they stood up. Also, they will kill out our seedling. Since we have given up wheat and barley we have nothing but oats to seed on. Now, where is the man who will invent or discover an oat that will fill the bill? Let him advertise and his fortune is made.

Orth on the Committees.

Representative Orth's privileged statement in reference to Speaker Keifer's committee appointments no doubt voices a very widespread discontent. There is of course no help for the matter as it stands, but it is clear that the present method of appointing the committees does give the Speaker a power which it is very easy to abuse. It is, as has been remarked, too important and complicated a business to be done by one man. Perhaps the best way would be to delegate it to a committee. At the best there would be appointments, of course, but there ought not to be any flagrant inappropriateness in the appointments, and that is what is complained of now. —[Sac. Record-Union.

The Paradise Flour Mill.

The farmers of Paradise, Humboldt county think of building a flour mill. Their agent wrote to a firm in Iowa for their price list of the required machinery and in due season received the following which was published in the Silver State:

Iowa, Nov. 23, 1881.

Mr. J. D. B., Paradise. Replying to your favor of 11th inst. Angelio Sir: We are in receipt of your astral favor of above date, and are surprised at the remote distance from home to which our business facilities are known; and, withal, are gratified by this evidence of established communication with a country which, on the authority of one Milton, we had long supposed lost. After paying 95 cents per bushel for potatoes, 15 cents per head for cabbages, and equally unchristian prices for other kinds of garden sauce, we were not prepared to hear of farmers in Paradise; but it appears that a few grangers have slipped through. They probably got in during the excitement of a dog fight. If the farmers referred to in your letter are late arrivals, it is no surprise that they are financially able to build a mill. The wonder is that they do not go in bigger, and lay themselves out on a 2,000 barrel concern, on the Hungarian plan.

We have made prompt telegraphic inquiry of the mercantile agency, as to the standing of the farmers in Paradise, as a job lot, and they report the locality as beyond their facilities; and as they depend upon cheap lawyers and professional duns for information, they have no "smellers" in that country, and until Deacon Dun dies, they never will have.

We could not sing you a correct hymn on the cost of the turbine wheel without being informed as to the head and cubic feet per minute of nectar you have, as these dates have much to do in determining size of wheel, and size of wheel determines cost. Our mundane correspondents frequently overlook this point. We will furnish the machinery for a mill, complete, with two runs of sapphires, diamond-pointed, cock-heads, ruby settings in tram-pots, and all furnished in harmony with supposed surroundings, free on board balloon at our place, for $— As to terms of payment, we will explain, that while individual members of our establishment pay liberally for the support of preachers, and are all brothers-in-law to some church, yet, as a concern, we have neglected to lay up treasures in Heaven to any dangerous extent, and we see in this a favorable opportunity to make an investment a little "off" from our regular business. We will furnish anything you may want, and we will collect on our arrival there. We have no possible means of exchange, as, of course, the national banks have nothing to their credit on your side of the skies.

As to putting machinery in the mill, we think we can do it. Our superintending millwright is growing old, and would like to go to Paradise at our expense. If you order him up immediately, we will pay his fare as far as our tin goes. When he reaches your place you may furnish him with harp, crown, white linen ulsters, and such other et cetera as your styles demand, and charge to our account.

If you have a Patent Office in your country, that grants re issues, we advise you to fall back on the old-fashioned "ruling of the gods, and let 'new process' and muddlings purifiers alone, or you will get busted.

By the way, you may consider it a recommendation that we shipped some machinery to Eden a few months ago, but that is in Dakota.

If you should want a good, old style miller that don't believe in improvements, we can send you one with a diadem on his brow; but you will have to get him inside the gate by special dispensation, as we learn that he has been refused admission once.

Yours, with mundane respect,
WORKS,

A Subterranean Lake.

In Colorado is a ten-acre field, which is no more nor less than a subterranean lake covered with soil about 18 inches deep. On the soil is cultivated a field of corn, which produces 30 bushels to the acre. If any one will take the trouble to dig a hole the depth of a spade-handle he will find it to fill with water, and by using a hook and line, fish four or five inches long can be caught. The fish have neither scales nor eyes, and are perch-like in shape. The ground is a black marl in nature, and in all probability was at one time an open body of water, on which accumulated vegetable matter, which has been increased from time to time, until now it has a crust sufficiently strong and rich to produce fine corn, though it has to be cultivated by hand, as it is not strong enough to bear the weight of a horse. While harvesting, the hands catch great strings of fish by making a hole through the earth. A person rising on his heel and coming down suddenly, can see the growing corn shake all around him. Any one having the strength to drive a rail through the crust will find, on releasing it, that it will disappear altogether. —[Ex.

Reward Offered.

Acting Governor Adams yesterday offered a reward of $250 for the arrest of the murderers of Edward Deed, at Double Springs, in Douglas county, on the 15th of November last. This makes the third reward offered recently by the State for the arrest of murderers, the other two being those of $500, for Jeff Morse, who killed Henry Isabel, at Death Station, Elko county, Sept. 25th, 1891, and $1,000 for the murderers of Mr. and Mrs. Pollock, in Six-mile Canyon, in Storey county. The last Legislature appropriated $4,000 for the purpose of offering rewards of escaped criminals.

Alice Oates.

The Alice Oates Opera Bouffe Company will appear in the Nevada Theater Saturday evening in the splendid opera entitled "La Mascotte." It will be the last opportunity our people will have of listening to the fine singing of Miss Oates. The way the seats are selling shows that Reno can appreciate a good show as well as any town in the State. The following is what our neighbor of the Carson Index has to say of this first-class troupe:

It is an especial pleasure to note the very large audience that was present last evening to see and listen to Alice Oates and her splendid Opera Bouffe Company, and also the fact that the audience was agreeably disappointed over the excellence in the performance in "La Mascotte." This fine opera was brought upon the stage with every accessory of costume, talent, numbers and art that could be desired in metropolitan theaters.

From first to last the variety was pleasing, and each new scene or incident served to lighten expectancy. The singing was fine and the support given by the orchestra was perfect. The dramatic effects intended by the composer could not have been more clearly brought out either in the music, colloquy or acting than as produced by the company. Miss Oates was at her best and those with whom she has always been a favorite were delighted at this new verifying of their former pleasures in her fine singing and cute acting. Without sufficient acquaintance with the several members of the troupe, or opportunity to fully judge between them, we will be permitted to say that we were more particularly impressed with the acting and singing of Mr. Sturges; the fine baritone of Mr. Harold and the artistic vocalizing of the Misses Alice Townsend and Elta Caldwell. The chorus was each time very fine, and at times grand. The local hits about our new County Commissioner, Jacob Klein, and the raising of revenue from additional taxation of the railroad, were exceedingly apt and "brought down the house." We are sure that we voice the feelings of all present in saying that the performance was creditable both to the troupe and to Carson as an appreciative patron of meritorious spectacular, musical or dramatic presentations.

The Chantz Case.

The Tribune says: Yesterday afternoon General R. M. Clarke voluntarily made some pertinent remarks in favor of the pardoning of Alfred Chantz, giving strong reasons why the clemency of the pardoning power should be exercised. This morning the matter was considered by the Board, and the application denied by the same vote as heretofore. Whilst admitting to feeling disappointed at the result, we have no intention of questioning the motives that cause the Board of Pardons to so persistently oppose the pardon of Chantz, but simply remark that to see him a free man would be a great pleasure to nine-tenths of the editorial fraternity of Nevada.

The White House.

Is one of our largest clothing establishments, and such an one as not only Reno but the State of Nevada can be proud of. Such is the extensiveness of their sales daily that the firm never has on hand what is called an "old stock," for just at present they are confined to a salesroom space which is wholly inadequate to their demands, and therefore, they are absolutely forced to order new goods, almost daily, to fill their orders. After a careful inspection of their stock of gents' and boys' clothing, gents' furnishing goods, hats and caps, boots and shoes, etc., we can truly say that we doubt if any other dealer in their line in Nevada has ever made an approach to the exhibit of the White House. The articles of Fine Custom Made Clothing kept by this firm is seldom seen in interior stores, and are kept but by a few of the larger houses in San Francisco. Some people think they cannot obtain a really good and fashionable article without sending to San Francisco, but that idea is soon dispelled after an examination of goods and prices at the White House. This establishment is admirably managed by Abraham Bros. Call upon them and satisfy yourselves that what we state is true. Their prices are lower than those of any similar establishment in the State. In selecting jewelry it is all important that the articles chosen be of the latest styles and neatest designs, and so we would advise all who contemplate making gifts in that line during the holidays to call at Wm. Goeggel's store and see the new and beautiful selections recently received by him. The magnificent display of solid gold jewelry set with precious stones, and of silverware, together with the attractive line of rolled-plate goods, at prices to suit the purses of all, is conclusive evidence of his excellent taste and determination to afford all Renoites an opportunity to purchase the finest articles at home, at reasonable prices. Indeed, his facilities are such as to place him in advance of all dealers in his line, and to enable him to sell for less than anyone else in Reno.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, in and for the County of Washoe.

The State of Nevada sends to F. M. PECK, MINNIE H. PECK and ROSA HUTCHINSON, greeting. You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as Defendants by V. T. Kirkpatrick as Plaintiff in the District Court of the Second Judicial District in and for the County of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the Complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this

Summons, (exclusive of the day of service) if served in said County, or twenty days, if served out of said County, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover judgment against Minnie H. Peck in the sum of four hundred and sixty dollars principal, and seventy dollars interest, on a promissory note which Plaintiff alleges one Minnie H. Hoyer, executed to Plaintiff February 12th, 1881, payable one year after date, with interest at the rate of one and one-half per cent. per month, payable quarterly, and providing that if the interest be not paid when due then the principal and interest should become due, said complaint also alleges that the said Minnie H. Hoyer has failed to pay the interest, whereby the Note became due; also alleges that said Minnie H. Hoyer executed a mortgage to secure said Note on the following described land, Beginning at the SW corner of lot one (1) in Block "P," thence the boundary runs northerly forty feet with the east line of Virginia street; thence at right angles east ninety feet; thence at right angles south forty feet to the north line of Second street; thence west along the north line of Second street ninety feet to the place of beginning, all in Block "P," in the town of Reno, Washoe county, Nevada; also alleging that said Minnie H. Hoyer has since the execution of said note and mortgage married defendant F. M. Peck, and they are now husband and wife, and asking to have said mortgage foreclosed, also for an attorney's fee of fifteen per cent, and asking that all the right of Defendant Rosa Hutchinson in and to said property be foreclosed and declared junior and subsequent to Plaintiff's mortgage, and asking for a sale of the mortgaged premises and such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and equitable, all of which will more fully appear from the Complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county.

And you are further notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said Complaint, the said Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I, Geo. A. Rankin, have hereunto set my hand this 6th day of January, A. D. 1882.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

To its Natural Vitality and color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, by long and extensive use, has proven that it cures the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brassy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color.
